

Krissy Oliver-Mays, Co-coordinator, Charlotte Chapter, Extinction Rebellion Youth

Krissy Oliver-Mays is an 18-year-old climate activist from Huntersville, North Carolina. She is a Co-coordinator of Extinction Rebellion Youth in Charlotte. She, alongside her best friend, Ollie, founded a non-profit that educates youth on how to create change within their communities.

In the collective effort of working toward a more sustainable future Krissy collaborates with many organizations including Earth Uprising and NC Climate Strike.

Although she is moving to Washington, DC next fall to attend American University she is continuing her endeavors by double majoring in International and Environmental studies.
